

INTRODUCTION TO FOLK ART FACE JUGS

4-Week Introduction to Folk Art Face Jugs

Many historians believe that the first face jugs in the United States were made in the Edgefield area of South Carolina by slaves who worked as potters. It is thought that these potters would work on their face jugs after their work of making functional pottery was done for the day. Students will learn about the varying theories regarding the making, use, and meaning of these artistic expressions of slave culture and create their own face jugs with clay.
