ABOUT THE ARTIST: Krystii Melaine is a figurative and portrait artist, currently exploring the lives of the people of the American West - Native Americans, cowboys, and the early settlers. Her oil paintings often include the horses which are so important to these people, and she is also well known for painting the wildlife encountered on her travels. Classically trained in the realist tradition of the old masters, Krystii captures the essence of each personality and provides us with a glimpse into their lives, using the richness and subtlety of oil paints on linen to tell their stories.
