TEACHER COMMENTS

"Directly related to our standards. Excellent match to our curriculum."

Northside Elementary, Paulding County

"My favorite thing about this program (Union Dissolved) is that it gets into some of the elements our curriculum does not explicitly address, like medicine and camp life for soldiers."

Cartersville Elementary, Bartow County

"Thank you for a rewarding, memorable experience."

St. John Neumann Catholic School- Gwinnett County

"We study westward expansion and pioneer travel on the Oregon trail. The program gives excellent visuals and perspectives of pioneer impact on other groups of people."

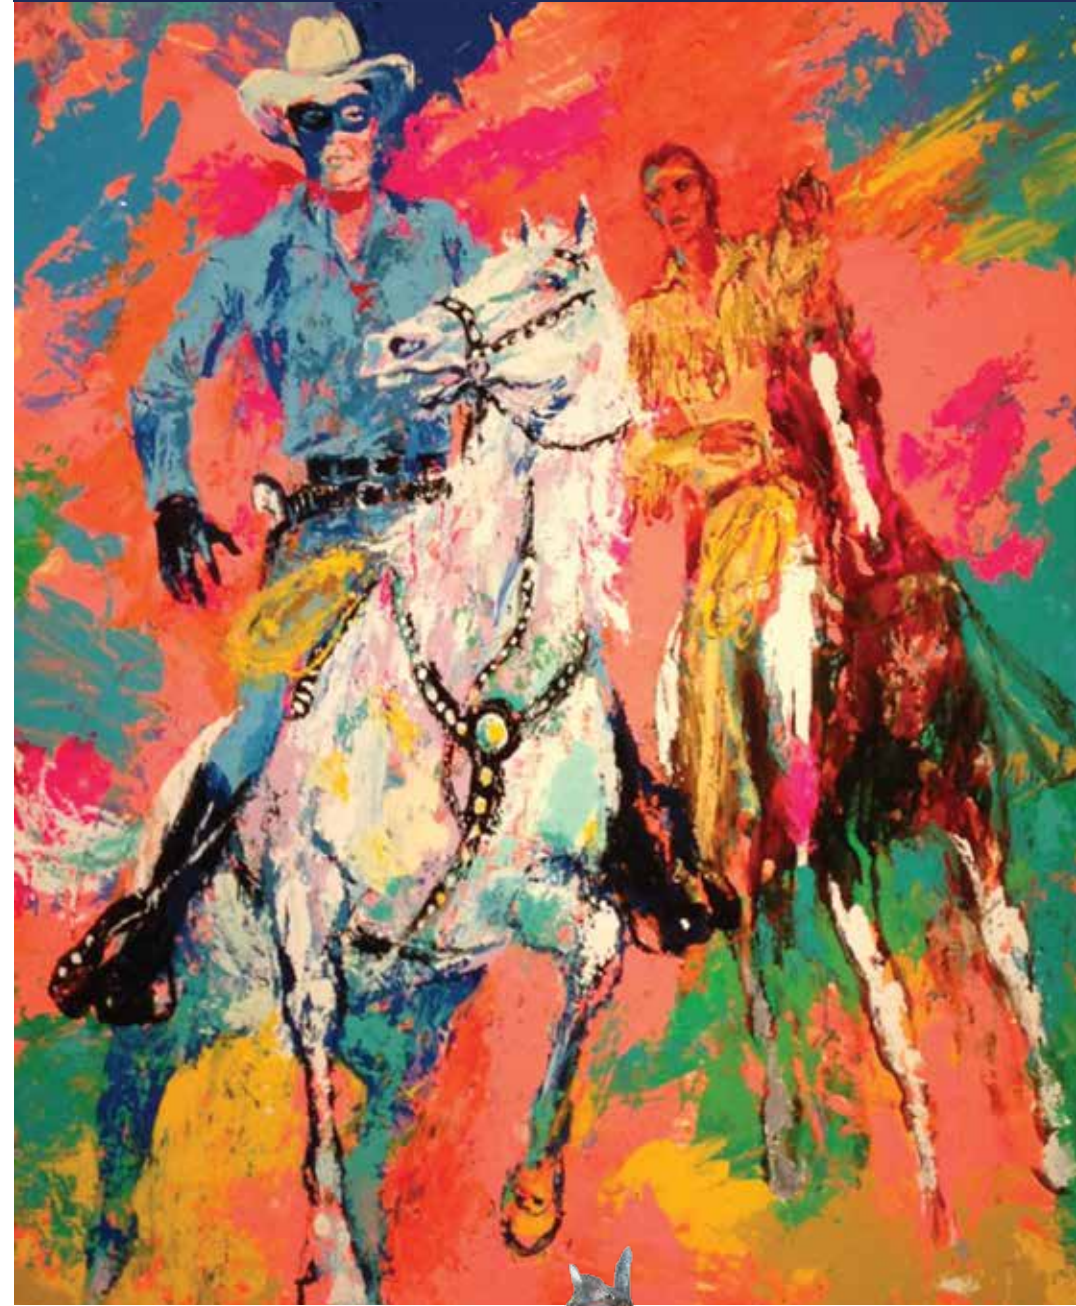

Trinity School of Atlanta, Fulton County

"I am so thankful for their willingness to share with my students and am thrilled with the level of service in all areas from the museum staff."

Palmer Elementary, Cobb County

LANGUAGE ARTS

What's the Story?

Connecting Art & Literacy

Gallery lessons and hands-on activities developed around the narrative works in the Booth's collection provide a wonderful and accessible way for students with different learning styles to enhance their reading and writing abilities. Each student receives a What's the Story activity booklet to take home.

Building a Story: Parts, Pieces, and Predictions

Kindergarten (90 minutes)

Focusing on sequencing and making predictions, this program uses hands-on objects and role-playing activities to teach children how to "read a painting" and make predictions about what might happen next.

Action in Art

First Grade (2 Hours)

Comparing and contrasting works of art, students increase their use of exciting action words and use descriptive language to describe the action they see.

Wild Ride

Second Grade (2 Hours)

Participating in a variety of hands-on activities, students discover the difference between Tall Tales, Fairy Tales and Legends.

Where the Buffalo Roam

Third Grade (2 Hours)

Using works of art featuring buffalo, students learn to determine fact from opinion, identify cause-effect relationships and draw conclusions.

Story Elements, Heroes & Villains

Fourth and Fifth Grade (2 Hours)

Students learn to "READ" selected works of art in the Museum's collection and identify characters, setting and plot through lively discussions led by highly trained docents.

Writing through Art

Grades 6-12 (2 hours)

Instruction and activities help students write Poetry and Prose. Students learn to be careful observers as they incorporate their thoughts and reactions to the artwork by completing writing exercises related to what they see.

Students in Grades 9-12 can win cash prizes by entering their work in the Booth's annual Writing through Art Literary Competition.

VISUAL ARTS

Cowboys, Indians and Art:

Kindergarten and First Grade (90 minutes)

This hands-on program introduces children to basic art concepts such as line, shape and color while enhancing their observation skills through developmentally appropriate activities designed around the Museum's collection.

Art Explorers:

Grades 2 - 12 (90 Minutes)

Explore the Booth Museum while making discoveries about elements of art and principles of design. Choose your favorite works of art and participate in age appropriate gallery games designed to enrich critical thinking skills.

SPECIAL ONE-DAY EVENTS

Passport to the West: Grades 2 – 12

Thursday, October 24, 2013

$5.00 for students, $3.00 for adults, Free for classroom teachers. Includes Museum admission

Demonstrations of pottery making, blacksmithing, spinning, beading, chuck wagon cooking, flint knapping, and life at a trading post will fascinate students as they take this educational journey to the West. Living history performers, Jim Sawgrass and Little Big Mountain, will present programs on Native American culture specifically for students.

Civil War Comes Alive!: Grades 3 – 12. Friday, April 25, 2014

$5.00 for students, $3.00 for adults, Free for classroom teachers

In recognition of the 150th anniversary of the Civil War, Bartow History Museum and Booth Museum are offering an unforgettable one-day Civil War experience. Choose from three performance times to experience the life of a Civil War soldier, then visit a field hospital, see a cannon being fired, and much more. Demonstrations of blacksmithing, rifle firing, and signaling along with a visit to the home front will provide students with unique perspectives on the War.
